

SCHOOL SUBJECT HAPPINESS - A FIELD FOR MORE LIFE SKILLS AND JOY OF LIVING

It is high time to reconsider education and create opportunities in our schools for personal development, orientation on resources and team spirit, with the aim of relieving teachers, students and parents.

“School Subject Happiness” supports adolescents in achieving a successful life - actively and self-responsibly.

The goal of the concept is to experience the joy of life and the joy of performance in school, to see and understand obstacles as challenges and to feel the unity of body, spirit and soul.

The adolescents are supported in growing up to be resilient, self-confident, creative and responsible individuals.

YOUR BENEFIT

This advanced training enables you to didactically set up and teach "School Subject Happiness". You will be further trained in systemic and solution-orientated points of view, in basic principles of mental training with students as well as in music, theatre and art techniques.

The concept fosters life competence and enables students to come to terms with the challenges of our time.

The course also strengthens your personality as an educator and offers support in designing and defining your own goals.

YOU PROMOTE

- ◇ an increase in physical, emotional and social well-being called for by the WHO
- ◇ your school's culture, especially improving relationships between teachers and students
- ◇ your own health and mental balance
- ◇ the ability of self-motivation and ease of mind
- ◇ the personal development and resilience of children and adolescents

PERSONAL PRECONDITIONS

It is advantageous to show an academic or similar qualification in pedagogical subjects as well as around 3 years of professional experience in either pedagogical or educational fields.
